CHINESE REBELS MUST BE CRUSHED

Peking Government Taking Vigorous Steps to Suppress Trouble.

ARMY MOVING DOWN ON THEM

Rebels Well Armed and Prepared to Fight—American Legation is Being Recruited—Situation is Serious

Peking, China, Oct. 16.—Simultaneously with the acceptance today by Yuan Shi Kai of the post of Viceroy, of Hu Peh and Hu Nan provinces, to which territory he is directed to proceed and immediately reestablish imperial authority, the Chinese government is showing remarkable activity, even in the face of a depleted treasury. The government seems to realize the necessity of crushing the rebellion hastily as preparations can be made.

Few messages are beginning to arrive from the South which for some days previously was entirely cut off from telegraphic communication. But though the lines are open few details of the situation in the affected provinces are filtering in. It is believed, however, that a certain measure of order is being maintained at Wu Chang and Hankow. Outside of the foreign concessions in Hankow these two cities are in the hands of revolutionists and the fact that all women and children have left or are leaving Hankow indicates that the forces under the insurgent leaders, well armed and well munitioned from the arsenal store, are preparing to resist the Chinese army, seevral divisions of which are either on the road to Hankow or rapidly being fitted out for the expedition.

The American consul at Hankow, Roger S. Greene, has sent a message to Peking requesting that he be kept informed as to the progress of the army southward and the approach of the troops under the War Minister in Yin Tchang, which are being mobilized at Chumatien, in Hunan province, and below, within seventy miles of Hankow.

The reinforcement of the American legation guard by a hundred men, who are proceeding from Manila, while not significant of danger, is nevertheless indicative of the seriousness of the situation.

An indication of the activity of the government is given in the dispatch from Pao Ting Fu of twenty-four army trains in the last three days. Twelve trains will be dispatched from Peking and the sixth division now quartered at Pao Ting Fu will leave as soon as conditions quiet down there. After the departure of a single passenger train tomorrow, the railway between Peking and Tien Tsin wil be closed to all but troop traffic.

General Yin Tchang, Minister of War, who will have chief command of the government troops is a small, thin, queless Manchu. German and Austrian officials who hold the general's greatest confidence, report that he has not entire faith in the Chinese troops. According to the Chinese people generally, the Manchus were tolerable loyal when they protected the country, but are now worthless. The vast body of Chinese sympathize with the revolutionists and a significant saying of the soldiers proceeding to the South is "an ordinary rebellion would be all right, but we must now fight against our trained brother."

The women, in seeing their coldier relatives off to the scene of action advise them if there is danger, to discard their uniforms and walk back.

The situation depends on money, and it is admitted that the ready funds of the Chinese government are low. Further loans by foreign bankers have been refused. If the pay of the troops is increased and is regularly forthcoming, and if the men are well fed, they may not desert or rebel.

San Francisco, Oct. 16.—News of the first engagement between the Chinese revolutionists and the Imeperial forces was received here today. A cablegram to the Chinese Free Press published here, gives an account of the disabling of three government gunboats by the revolutionists near Hankow yesterday.

Two other boats of the flotilla, one of which carried Sui Ching, Viceroy of the Hu Peh province, escaped.

It is reported today at the local headquarters of the revolutionary government that the 1,800 men under General Ching Pleo revolted and joined the revolutionists. From Hang Weng it was reported that 10,000 troops came over to join Li Yuen Hung, commander of the revolutionary army.

The Chinese National Association, through its national secretary, Ton King Chong, today telegraphed President Taft and Secretary Knox requesting that the United States government use its best offices to maintain or preserve the neutrality of the powers toward the revolutionary struggle now in progress in China in order that its entity may be preserved and a stable government established.

Chicago, Oct. 16.—Two hundred Progressive Republicans in their first national conference today endorsed Senator Robert M. LaFollette, of Wisconsin, for President and declared in favor of a direct primary as a means for the expression of a Presidential choice.

ATHLETICS TAKE SECOND IN CHAMPIONSHIP SERIES

Baker Drove Ball Over Fence After Collins Had Doubled-Score 3 to 1-Game in Detail.

Philadelphia, Oct. 16.—When John Franklin Baker, third baseman, pulled a home run over the rightfield wall of Shibe Park, scoring Eddie Collins ahead of him today, he put the Philadelphia Athletics on an even footing with the New York Giants and the two teams will now go to New York for the third game tomorrow in the series for the world's baseball honors.

The score: Philadelphia 3; New York 1.

The big hit came in the sixth inning, with two out, and when the fighting Athletics had touched up Pitcher Marquard, of the National League champions for only three hits. Baker's smash was the last in the game for the American Leaguers, but it was enough. And just as important as Baker was on the offensive, was Eddie Plank, the star left handed pitcher of the House of Mack on the defensive. The veteran southpaw never pitched a better game in his long career. Only one of the Giants reached second base, and that was Herzog, who made that bag on a long hit to centerfield, which Oldring either misjudged or lost in the sun. Plank was never in trouble and in the last six inning New York went out in order.

Marquard, on whom Manager McGraw had pinned his faith to make it two straight victories for New York, pitched a game that was almost the equal of that of Plank. He allowed the heavy hitting Philadelphians but four hits, two in the first inning in which the Quakers got their first run with the help of a wild pitch, and two in the sixth, Collins' double and Baker's hit out of the grounds. In the eighth inning Manager McGraw changed pitchers, sending Crandall in, a right hander.

The New York left hander only once during the game showed any unsteadiness and that was in the first inning. He appeared to be nervous and for a time had trouble reading Meyers' signals and it looked as though he would "blow up," and Manager McGraw no doubt thought so too, for he immediately sent Crandall down the side lines to warm up. But Marquard under the steady coaching of his Indian catcher, soon settled down and he had no more trouble until Baker broke up the game in the sixth inning. Marquard, however, was hit harder than the score indicates. Five of the outs were long flies to Devore and one long fly went to Snodgrass. New York sent only three flies to the outfield, two of which were captured by Lord and one by Oldring.

Plank had eight strike-outs, Devore falling a victim to the cross fire delivery of the Philadelphian four times, while Marquard struck out twice and Snodgrass and Murray each once. Six of the Athletics went out by the strike out route. They were Lord, (2), Baker, Murphy and Plank (2). Marquard got four of these and Crandall two, Lord and Plank, in the closing inning.

Neither Plank nor Marquard gave a base on balls. The only misplay charged against them was Marquard's wild heave in the first inning and a man hit by a pitched ball by Plank. The Athletics went out in order in five innings.

New York's only run was put across the plate by the last half of the batting order.

It came in the second inning. Herzog drove a fly to center which Oldring failed to get and the New Yorker pulled up at second. He went to third on Fletcher's in-field out and raced across the home plate when Meyers hit a single to left.

Philadelphia's first run came in the opening inning. Lord, the first man up, singled to right and reached second on Murray's fumble. He was sacrificed to third by Oldring and came home on Marquard's wild pitch.

The fielding honors today were the reverse of those of Saturday. The particular feature was Lord's quick fielding and Snodgrass' long hit and his rifle shot throw to second, which caught the fleet footed centerfielder by a couple of yards trying to stretch the long single into a double.

In the ninth inning Collins took a nasty bounder from the side and tossed out Murray, ending the game.

Philadelphia went through the game without a miscue, while the Giants had three errors charged against them. These were made by Devore, who muffed Barry's long fly; Murray's fumble of Lord's hit and a muffed fly sent up by Lord and of these only Murray's figured in the runs.

Collins, whose error on Saturday proved so costly to Philadelphia, played a steady game today, accepting his six chances with apparent ease. He had two of the four hits off Marquard. The great pitching of both Marquard and Plank gave the fielders few chances for sensational work.

Neither team was given much opportunity to show their speed on the bases. Neither team had a stolen base. Merkle, who was on first in the seventh inning, made a "fake" attempt to go down to second and took too much of a lead off the bag. Plank turned instantly and by a lightning throw to Davis caught the New York first baseman by a yard.

The crowd that saw the first of the world's championship games here was 600 short of the attendance at the first game for the world's title played here with Chicago last year. It was a joyful throng, however, and cheered from the moment the teams came on the field until Collins tossed Murray out in the ninth inning.

The crowd was given a chance to cheer for the home team early. When the Athletics put together their first run in the first inning the crowd rose to its feet and yelled its delight, but this was nothing compared with the demonstration that ensued when Baker put the ball out of the grounds. Hats and cushions went into the air and horns, rattles and other noise-making instruments raised a din that lasted for several minutes. The Athletic players showed their delight by running out to meet Baker as he crossed the plate. The hero took the demonstration modestly.

Connie Mack was all smiles after the game. He had played another card, but not the one McGraw had expected, and still has Coombs, the "iron man" to take up the guage of battle on the Polo grounds tomorrow.

The crowd fully expects the tall manager to trot out Coombs, who won three world's series games last year. Plank was not used in the series with Chicago in 1910, and there was some misgivings in the crowd as to the outcome of the game. But when it was seen how well the southpaw was working, they cheered him on in his work.

The man on the New York team who received the heartiest welcome was Catcher Meyers. His superb catching caught the crowd and he was given a hand each time he stepped to the plate.

The game began a few minutes after 2 o'clock with New York at the bat. The first ball pitched by Plank was a strike and the crowd cheered. The next was also a strike and the third a ball. The fourth pitched sent the little left fielder Devore, back to the bench. Captain Doyle sent a fly to Lord which the latter almost lost, slipping on the soft ground as he started after the ball. Snodgrass was tipped on the shirt front by one of Plank's speedy in-shoots and went to first. He was left there as Murray flied to Collins.

In the second half of the openning inning, Lord raised the hopes of the home rooters by sending a slashing single to right. Murray was after the ball like a flash but fumbled it in his hurry to pick it up and Lord sprinted to second. Oldring laid down a pretty sacrifice which put Lord on third and then Marquard let loose a wild pitch and Lord came home. Collins singled and Baker, always dangerous, came up to the plate. It was here that Marquard showed signs of unsteadiness. He either could not catch or did not understand Meyers' signals. Finally he got them right and under the coaching of the Indian, he struck out Baker. Murphy flied to Devore.

Merkle was easily disposed of in the second inning, Barry to Davis, to the delight of the crowd. But the joyful spirit of the fans was soon turned to gloom for Herzog's long hit got away from Oldring in center and the third baseman stopped at second. Fletcher went out Collins to Davis. On this out, Herzog went to third and came home on Meyers' single to left, evening up the score.

For Philadelphia, in the second inning, Davis was tossed out by Doyle. Devore made a mess of Barry's long fly and Barry reached second on the muff. He was left there as Thomas sent a long fly to Devore and Plank went out on a slow grounder which Meyers picked up and shot to Merkle.

Devore struck out for the second time when he came up in the third inning and Doyle went out the same way he did in the first inning, by a fly to

CHILD CRIMINALS

Address of Canadian Magistrate at Prison Association Conference

Omaha, Neb., Oct. 16.—"To prevent children from becoming criminals is the best movement a government can make," said William Trant, police magistrate of Regine, Sask, Canada, in an address before the American Prison Association today. He declared Canada and the United States should co-operate in creating improved laws for dealing with delinquent juveniles.

"All taint that attaches to criminal law should be removed in dealing with offending children," said Mr. Trant. "The child ought not to be 'tried' for anything. There should be no 'charging with an offence,' no committal, no sentence. As an American penalagist has said, the great thing to realize is that the affair is not the State versus Johnny but the State for Johnny. The probation officer should attend the juvenile court not as a prosecutor but to represent the interests of the child. The child should be regarded as a ward of the State, to be cared for by it, not as an enemy of the state to be punished by it. The supreme question is: Is the parent a fit person to continue as a guardian of the child? If not, what ought to be done with the child? The proceedings, I repeat, are not against the child, but in its behalf. Instead, therefore, of trial, charge, committal, there should be nothing more than an enquiry into the condition and environment of the youngster and the conduct of its parents. If anyone is on the trial in the juvenile court, it is not Johnny but his parents, the charge being breach of trust amounting to cruelty. There should be enforcement to the uttermost of the parental abligation. The point I wish to emphasize is that instead of a trial the duty of the juvenile courts should be to find out exactly how the child is being rared and discover the best thing to do under the circumstances. The State is a loving yet prudent mother, cares for her weak and erring children and ought to see that they are not neglected or oppressed. Young delinquents, as a rule, have not strayed They were born on the highway to ruin, and there they are. Surely the hand of love can lead them into the right path."

M'NAMARA TRIAL MAKING PROGRESS

Selection of Jury Has Been Exceedingly Tedious.

TALESMEN CONFESS TO BIAS

Trial Judge Stands Aside All Who Are Doubtful of Their Ability to Have Prejudice Removed. The Proceedings.

Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 16.—When seemingly caught in its first snag, the McNamara murder trial in an instant today twisted itself out of a situation which had worried opposing counsel since last Wednesday and for the remainder of the day went ahead steadily.

"Could you set aside your opinions sufficiently to enable you to give a fair and impartial verdict?" was the crucial question put to Talesman Z. T. Nelson. Nelson had been asked hundreds of questions to elicit his views and he had answered all of them without clearing up the situation.

"It would take pretty strong evidence," he replied dubiously.

District Attorney John D. Fredericks thereupon withdrew opposition to a challenge previously made by the defense on the charge of bias.

"There was nothing else to do after that question and answer," said Fredericks later. "The talesman disqualified himself."

Judge Bordwell himself examined Nelson at length before the question was settled. Nelson's final discharge on fundamental grounds leaves the many questions raised during his examination still not ruled on in this case.

When court closed today two other talesmen had been examined by the defense. One of them, John W. Roberts, a real estate dealer, was found satisfactory, and Robert F. Bain, a carpenter, also was examined without raising any contest. Nevertheless, it was the fairly general opinion tonight that the Nelson case would be duplicated before a jury was obtained.

Roberts and Bain both are past middle age.

The Merchants' & Manufacturers' Association, a local organization, which is among those offering rewards for the detection of the person or persons supposed by them to have blown up the Times building, was brought into the situation today. Roberts said he belonged to it several years ago.

It is possible that Bain will be examined briefly tomorrow.

ECUMENICAL CONFERENCE.

Catholic Decree Concerning Divorce Condemned—Prohibition.

Toronto, Ont., Oct. 16.—A resolution was passed at the Ecumenical Methodist Conference today petitioning the Congress of the United States to take steps to prevent the shipment of liquor from one State into the prohibition territory of another State in defiance of the law and "thereby bringing the Federal government into complicity with the liquor traffic."

Resolutions were also adopted condemning the NeTermere marriage decree of the Roman Catholic church against unjustifiable divorce and affirming the sanctity of the home and fidelity of Methodist ministers in refusing to marry unwarrantably divorced persons; also urging complete suppression of the opium traffic and appointing Bishops Hamilton, of Boston, and Wilson, of Baltimore, a committee to confer with President Taft and to express concurrence of the conference in his peace proposals.

The need of a more efficient, a more broadly educated ministry, was emphasized in the morning discussion of the "Training of the Ministry." Attention was drawn to the scarcity in candidate of the most desirable character for the ministry and it was attributed to the fact that the church and clergy looked too much for their recruits in the Methodist parsonages and small country churches instead of to the mass of young men generally. The church required men of the highest sultivation and the need of better equipment in the theological colleges was emphasized in this connection.

At the afternoon session the essays and the discussion centered on the influence of the press generally and particularly the advantage of placing Methodist papers in the home.

Ministers were charged with apathy towards denominational papers and were strongly urged to seize the potentialities of printers' ink.

GLIDDEN TOURISTS HELD-UP

Met With Mild Sensations in Virginia Yesterday

Staunton, Va., Oct. 16.—Ten cars of Glidden tourists reached here tonight from Gettysburg, Pa., after a day of mild sensations including two hold-ups and one near serious accident. The first hold-up came at Harrisonburg where a policeman emphasized his admonition for the tourists to go slowly by halting them at the point of a gun. At a toll gate where they were halted for over-speeding they were allowed to resume after leaving their numbers. When about sixty miles from Gettyburg the press car collided with a telephone pole and although the machine was wrecked its occupants escaped injury and made the rest of the journey in other cars. The tourists will leave for Roanoke tomorrow.

DYNAMITE PLOT AGAINST MR. TAFT

Attempt to Blow Up Bridge on the President's Route.

TWO MEN LAID HEAVY MINE

Were Driven Off After Revolver Duel With Night Watchman—President Spoke in California Cities Yesterday.

San Francisco, Oct. 16.—A report received here today by officials of the Southern Pacific Railway Company from C. B. Brown, section foreman for the road at Naples, Cal., gave details of the discovery of 36 sticks of dynamite under the Cairtain viaduct, 20 miles north of Santa Barbara several hours before President Taft's special train passed over the bridge, en route to Los Angeles this morning. The dynamite was found after the watchman engaged in a revolver battle with two men who escaped.

The dynamite was discovered at 2 o'clock this morning. The President's train passed over the bridge at 5:51. The night watchman saw two men on the bridge shortly before 2 o'clock. They were at the opposite end of the 1,000 foot span and ran when ordered to halt. The watchman hurried across the bridge, firing several shots, which were returned.

After the pair had escaped in the darkness, the watchman returned to the bridge and began an investigation. Near the center of the span, lodged on one of the supports of the viaduct, he found the 36 sticks of dynamite with a 10-foot fuse attached to one of the sticks. He left the fuse untouched, going immediately to Santa Barbara and notifying the officials.

Sheriff Wines, of Santa Barbara, came immediately to the bridge with several deputies and removed the dynamite. A general search is being made for the men.

PARDONS BY GOVERNOR.

One of Salisbury Lynchers Receives Clemency—Another.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 16.—A commutation is granted by Governor Kitchin for George Hall, who has served since August, 1906, on a 15-year sentence for conspiracy to kill in Rowan county. The commutation is effective December 20th, next. Hall is the only man who was convicted as a member of the mob that stormed the Rowan county jail at Salisbury and lynched the negroes who murdered the Lyerly family five years ago. He has made a remarkably good prisoner, worked faithfully at the carpenter's trade and set a fine example to the other prisoners in discipline, according to representations to the Governor. Furthermore, there was no evidence to connect Hall with the crime beyond being a member of the party that attacked the jail. He got the extreme penalty of the law when it could have been as little as two years. The petitions urging the commutation that the Governor has been constrained to grant include the signatures of 145 of the members of the North Carolina Legislature, men in every section of the State, and the prison officers and numerous citizens of Rowan county.

Dan Curry, Davidson county, gets a pardon from six months' service on the roads for selling whiskey. He is 70 years old and very feeble. Also, this was the first time that he was ever in court as a defendant. The county physician reports to the Governor that the old man cannot live long if held in prison. He is required to give $100 bond for good behavior.

SCOTTISH RITE MASONS.

Seventy-five Candidates Before the Supreme Council.

Washington, Oct. 16.—With brilliant and imposing ceremonial the Royal Order of Scotland was conferred today on a class of 75 candidates at the meeting of the Supreme Council of the Ancient and Accepted Scottish Rite Masons of the Southern jurisdiction. The meeting was attended by 30 second-degree Masons from both the Northern and Southern jurisdictions.

The Supreme Council will continue its deliberations tomorrow, and tomorrow night will come the principal social event of the gathering, a banquet, to which ladies have also been invited.

The opening session was devoted to an address of welcome and the allocution, or annual address, of Sovereign Grand Commander Richardson, and the singing by the Scottish Rite choir of the St. Louis Consistory. The Grand Commander announced that during the past two years there had been added to the order 14,693 new members.

Lord. Snodgrass singled to right after two strikes had been called on him and was left on the base paths, Murray being tossed out by Plank. The Athletics went out in order in the third inning, Lord striking out, Oldring fouling to Meyers and Collins flying to Devore.

The pitching of Plank and Marquard was to beat. New York went out in quick order in the fourth. Collins made a pretty pick up of Merkle's bounder and tossed him out. Herzog lifted a high fly to Barry which nearly got away from him and Fletcher was an easy out, Barry to Davis. For the Athletics in the fourth, Baker was tossed out likewise by Doyle. Murphy sent a high fly to Devore and Davis sent up a high foul which Meyers got under. The Indian catcher was first up in the fifth inning and went out, Baker to Davis. Marquard struck out on four pitched balls and Devore got the laugh from Plank as he struck out for the third time. Philadelphia's fifth inning was a quickly played. Barry dropped a bunt in front of the plate but Marquard made a new pick-up and shot the ball to first ahead of the shortstop. Thomas sent a grounder t. Fletcher and Plank smiled as Marquard sent him back to the bench on three pitched balls.

Davis took Doyle's grounder unassisted in the sixth. Then Snodgrass sent a fast single down the left field foul line. Lord raced after the ball and when Snodgrass got near second he found that Barry, through a great throw by Lord, had the ball and was waiting for him. Murray struck out.

Lord had gone out on a fly to Snodgrass and Oldring on a long drive to Devore in the second half of the sixth when the break-up came. Collins drove a pretty two-base hit to left field and the crowd called on Baker to bring him home. Baker allowed two balls to go by him and then Marquard sent up one that just suited the best home-run hitter on the Athletic team. The ball sailed high over the right field wall and Collins, who was off with the crack of the bat, "loafed" home when he saw that Baker had put the ball out of the grounds. Marquard kept his nerve in the face of the 3 to 1 score and struck out Murphy. It now took two runs to tie the score and the Athletic rooters began to sing. Merkle hushed them by sending a single to center on the first ball pitched. Herzog flied to Oldring and Fletcher was an easy out to Baker. Merkle was caught napping Plank to Davis.

In the Philadelphia seventh inning, Davis drove a liner to Doyle and Barry lined to Herzog. Thomas sent up a fly to Fletcher.

Meyers sent a terrific drive to Collins in the eighth inning, which the second sacker held onto and Crandall who was sent in to bat for Marquard, went out Collins to Davis. Devore struck ou for the fourth time.

Plank and Lord struck out in the eighth inning for the American Leaguers and Oldring, the last man to come to bat for the home team was out, Herzog to Merkle.

New York made a desperate attempt to do something in the ninth but it was futile. Doyle fouled to Thomas, Snodgrass struck out and Murray sent an ugly grounder that Collins snared and tossed to Davis.

Both teams returned to New York tonight. The total attendance was 26,286. The total cash was $42,962.50 divided as follows: Players shared $23,199.75. Each club $7,733.25. National Commission $4,296.25.

Game in New York.

New York, Oct. 16.—"Athletics Win," "Giants Lose," whichever way the big headlines read or the newsboys shrieked on Broadway this afternoon, the tidings fell as a damper on the hopes of the more ardent New York fans. It seemed a safe prediction that the crowd of some 40,000 enthusiasts who are expected to storm the Polo grounds again tomorrow to see the third game will have less confidence of a local victory.

The opinion which the New York crowd returning tonight from Philadelphia brought back was that the big title at stake practically rests with Christy Mathewson, the veteran Giant pitcher, who won the first game here Saturday. It was announced that he and Coombs, the hero of last year's championship series, will probably be the opposing pitchers tomorrow. If Mathewson loses it will be a still harder blow, seemingly necessitating resort to Wiltse or Ames, the relief pitchers.

Marquard's nervousness exhibited in a costly wild pitch at the start of today's game, had been predicted by many fans because of his sensitiveness to opposition rooting. The fans believe that on home grounds he would make a better showing.

Unsettled weather for tomorrow was the local forecast this evening.

So intense was the interest in today's game that thousands of enthusiasts abandoned their work to follow the contest play by play displayed on the bulletin boards and tickers.

All things the hustler doesn't want come to him who waits.

GRAVE DISORDER NEAR ROME.

Efforts to Stamp Out Cholera Bring About Rioting.

Rome, (via Frontier), Oct. 16.—Very grave disorders occurred today at Segni, a town of 7,000 population, one-half hour by railway from Rome.

The rioting was caused by the action of the municipality in adopting measures to stamp out cholera. Believing that the government intended to poison quarantine cholera patients, a great crowd marched to the city hall and demanded their release.

The mob broke in the doors of the municipal building seeking the mayor, but failing to find him, the rioters sacked the building and then burned it.

A woman seized the municipal flag from the burning structure and cried: "To the hospital! To the hospital! Death to the doctors."

This suggestion caught the fancy of the crowd and the mob of shrieking men, women and children rushed to the hospital. The doors were forced, attendants swept aside and the cholera patients were lifted from their cots and carried to the street.

Meanwhile others broke into a house where suspects were quarantined and took them from the place. A procession was then formed and the sick were borne to their homes. Two of the patients who were at the point of death were passed from one to another, embraced and kissed by their half-mad friends.

The local authorities managed to send a message to Rome and the troops hurriedly sent from the capital restored order after many of the mob had been arrested.

HORSE MEAT FOR SALE

Dr. Wiley Will Back Up New Jersey State Authorities

Washington, Oct. 16.—"We will cooperate with the authorities of the State of New Jersey in the prosecution of the Schwartz Brothers Company, Newark packers, on the charge of disposing of the meat of diseased horses for human consumption," said Dr. Wiley, chief of the Bureau of Chemistry, on his return today from the neighborhood of the company's operations.

Dr. Wiley went to New York Saturday to confer with the inspectors of his bureau who had left Newark because warrants had been issued for their arrests by the authorities of the suburban town of Kearney. There were three of these officials engaged in an inquiry into the charge that the Schwartz concern packed and shipped the flesh of horses for outside consumption and while they were so employed the president of the company procured warrants for their apprehension. Rather than take the chances of a local prosecution the Federal officials departed from that jurisdiction and called upon their chief for advice.

"They ceased their inter-State operations when they discovered that we were observing them and thus rendered themselves immune from Federal prosecution." Dr. Wiley continued: "But the State has begun action against them and we shall turn over to the public prosecutor of Hudson county the evidence collected by our men and will do all that we can to aid them."

Dr. Wiley added that he had not yet been informed when the State case would be begun.

DR. ROLSTON ACCEPTS

Petersburg Minister Accepts Call to Charlotte Church

(Special to Times-Dispatch.)

Petersburg, Va., Oct. 15.—The Rev. D. H. Rolston, D. D., at the morning hour of worship today, resigned as pastor of the Second Presbyterian Church to accept the call to the First Presbyterian Church in Charlotte, N. C., extended to him some weeks ago. The call to the Charlotte church, he said, had been most carefully and prayerfully considered, and after thorough investigation he had decided to accept it, as offering a field of great usefulness and benefit to the church. He asked that the congregation unite with him in requesting East Hanover Presbytery to dissolve his relations with the Second Church. A meeting of the congregation will be held within the next few weeks to act on the resignation and request.

Dr. Rolston has been pastor of the Second Church for three and a half years, and in the great work he has accomplished, he has fully met the responsibilities of his position.

His congregation is greatly attached to Dr. Rolston, and while his resignation had been rather expected, it is very deeply regretted, as it will be regretted by the entire community. Dr. Rolston did not state when he expected to go to Charlotte.

FINDS LOST SON A JOCKEY

Father's Long Search for Fifteen-Year-Old is Rewarded

Baltimore, Oct. 15.—S. H. Howard Sterling has just returned from Canada, where, after a long search, he found his fifteen-year-old son, whom the lure of the races and the love of the horses had led to leave his comfortable home in the Green Springs Valley on July 20th for the life of a jockey. Detectives were employed and every clue unearthed his father followed up in vain.

Thousands of miles had been traveled by Sterling and most of the leading race tracks in this country had been visited by him, but all to no purpose, and the father had given up the chase until a jockey riding at the Laurel meeting, who had read of the young aristocrat's disappearance recalled a boy riding at Duffin Park, Canada, and went under the name of "Tommy Loden." The jockey had furnished a good clue, and the lad was found. Thrown from his mount in a race the lad was in ill-health and forced to use crutches.

SEVEN KILLED IN WRECK

Misunderstanding of Orders Believed to Be Responsible

Omaha, Neb., Oct. 15.—Seven persons were killed and twenty-two injured, four of them seriously, in a collision between a northbound Missouri Pacific passenger train and a fast freight train at Fort Crook early today, ten miles south of this city. The accident is believed to have resulted from a misunderstanding of orders on the part of the freight crew.

A relief train was sent to the scene of the accident at once, carrying Dr. Klinck, local surgeon of the Missouri Pacific road, and a staff of Union Pacific surgeons.

Shortly before noon the relief train returned with the uninjured and several of those who were slightly injured. Of these all were sent on their way. The more seriously injured are being cared for at the army hospital at Fort Crook.

Governor Gilchrist, of Florida, was a passenger on the northbound train, but was uninjured.

ROBBERY THE CHARGE.

Croatan, Wanted at Pembroke, Arrested Here Sunday Night.

Arrested here Sunday midnight upon the arrival of the Seaboard train, upon which he was a passenger, Rich Thompson, a Croatan, was taken back to Robeson county yesterday afternoon by Deputy Sheriff H. B. Morrison to answer a charge of robbery preferred against him by Mr. W. H. Beasley, of Maxton, the offense alleged to have been committed at or near Pembroke Sunday. Thompson did not deny his guilt, so it was said at police headquarters, and talked freely of the robbery, which was participated in by his brother and Millan Locklin, also a Croatan. Rich Thompson told hall officers that his brother, Millan Locklin and himself and Mr. Beasley were together carousing around when they got $140 which belonged to the latter. He said that Beasley gave his brother $5 with which to get some wine and that while his brother was away to get the wine Beasley began flashing a pistol. Not liking the looks of the weapon Rich Thompson took it away from Beasley and later gave it to his brother to keep. Rich's brother was arrested and it was said by the Robeson officer who came here yesterday that Beasley's pistol was found at the Croatan's house.

Sunday night at 11:12 Chief of Police John J. Fowler received a telegram from Mr. J. H. Cooper, chief of police of Pembroke, asking him to look out for Rich Thompson, wanted for robbery, of whom a splendid description was given, who was said to be on the incoming Seaboard train. Sergeant C. S. Burnett met the train and had no trouble in spotting his man, whom he placed under arrest. When searched at the hall Thompson was found to have $77.95 on his person.

SEAMAN KILLED ON SHIP.

Struck on Head by Swinging Timber. Lived Only Few Hours.

While working aboard the schooner Sylvia Hall, receiving lumber near the foot of Market street, J. Nordgaust, a native of Sweden, was struck and fatally injured by a swinging timber and later died at the James Walker Memorial Hospital, where he was removed shortly after the accident, which occurred about 10 o'clock yesterday morning.

The head of the unfortunate man was severely crushed and he died without regaining consciousness. The accident occurred while timbers were being hoisted from the barge Davidson to the schooner, Nordgaust having been struck while a timber was being transferred from the barge to the vessel. He lived until 2 o'clock.

Nordgaust shipped on the Hall at New York on her last visit to that port. He was 35 years old. The body will probably be interred here.

HOSPITAL IN SEPTEMBER

Monthly Report of the Superintendent Shows Good Work

The monthly report of Dr. R. B. Seem, superintendent in charge of the James Walker Memorial Hospital, shows that September was a month of unusual activity at the institution, both in the number of charity and pay patients and in the number of operations performed.

The report as submitted to the Board of Managers shows 69 patients remaining in the institution August 31st and 128 admitted during September, bringing the total to 197. The number of patients discharged during September was 146, seven died and there were remaining September 1st, 153, as against 69 the first of the previous month. Charity patients were treated a total of 1,131 days and pay patients 646 days, a total of 1,777 days of treatment. Operations numbered 59 while 444 dressings were furnished and the ambulance responded to 71 calls. In the Outpatient Department 159 new and 121 old cases were treated, the total being 280. Dressings on new cases numbered 78 and on old cases 42, a total of 120. The report is one of the best from the hospital in several months.

RECLESS DRIVING.

Further Complaint as to Speed of Automobiles on the Turnpike.

There is further complaint and the attention of the authorities is called to reckless driving on the Wrightsville turnpike by automobiles, more than one instance of which was called to the notice of the Star by citizens who telephoned last night. One complaint was as to speed bordering on criminality Sunday afternoon soon after a funeral procession passed down the road and another instance of similar character was called attention to by a gentleman who with his wife was driving on the pike yesterday evening about 6 o'clock. A car passed them near Delgado, running at a rate of fully 60 miles an hour and in imminent danger of skidding on a curve near there, the results of which were fearful to contemplate. The Star feels certain that all that is necessary is to call the attention of Sheriff Cowan to the matter and the remedy will be speedily applied. Until something is done, it is pointed out, that it is dangerous to travel the turnpike with anything of less resistance than a road roller.

WENT OVER THE GROUND.

Council This Afternoon May Authorize the Drilling of Wells.

It is not improbable that at the meeting of the City Council this afternoon a resolution will be adopted authorizing the drilling of an experimental well on property of the county on the hillside near the old race track with a view of determining whether or not the proposition to obtain the city water supply from drilled wells instead of the river is feasible. Mayor Joseph D. Smith, Councilman D. C. Moore and M. G. Tiencken and Mr. J. D. Lowry, the expert well man, went over the ground yesterday afternoon and spent more than an hour in their investigation of suitable points for drilling wells. Mr. Lowry thought the tract a good place for experiments and seemed to be satisfied that all the water needed for the use of the city could be obtained there. The idea is to drill a three or five-inch well as an experiment and if it proves satisfactory other wells will be drilled and instead of moving the intake up the river the water for city consumption would be secured from these wells.

HOW TO GET FAT

Use Samose, Says Druggist J. Hicks Bunting and Put On Good Flesh

The almost universal interest in physical culture is the best evidence that can be offered as to the need of a simple and scientific method of making thin people fat, increasing strength and restring health.

Athletics, when carried to an extreme, often result in straining the vital organs. How much better it would be for the average person to regain health, strength and flesh by using Samose. This flesh forming food is assimilated as soon as it enters the stomach; it helps the organs to assimilate the food and extract the flesh forming elements; it builds up the muscles and rounds out the limbs into shapely plumpness.

Samose has been so successful in making thin people fat and restoring the weak and run down to strength and health that J. Hicks Bunting, the popular druggist, sells it under his personal guarantee to refund the money if it does not benefit.

Don't simply watch your town grow but help it grow and blow.

The man who "falls down" should not stay down. He can make more by getting up and going ahead than by staying down and out.

A New York court has held that "poverty is not a crime." At the same time the court ought to know that it is often an accessory to crime.

Maine is going in at the front door to get it without making any more noise than when she was keeping the back door creaking and banging all hours of the day and night.

The Charleston News and Courier says "a woman should pick her friends." As soon, however, as she picks them she shouldn't try to pick all their secrets out of them.

Life is one man right after another trying to get ahead of each other in getting rich, trying to get married, and keeping out of the hands of the sheriff till they can work both sides of the street.

A Philadelphia physician declares that "ragtime" music is bound to drive Americans crazy. Probably, it accounts for the fact that chewing the rag seems to be increasing at a marvellous rate.

A woman who was sojourning at Reno to get a divorce, learned that her husband had fallen heir to $1,000,000. She left Reno in great haste and is now pretending like she went there for her health.

In New York the other day a man who found a $10 bill on Broadway, turned it over to the police. That was about the time when a great many honest North Carolinians were in New York taking in the world's baseball series.

The high cost of living is staring Cupid in the face, but Cupid is giving it the cold stare in return. The little elf works overtime, for he is an optimist and don't give a cent how low the coal bin gets or how big the gas and electric light bills grow.

People by the thousands rushed to the Polo Grounds in New York Saturday to witness the opening game of the world's championship series of baseball, but that isn't a circumstance to the crowds that will be interested in the Presidential bawl next year.

Senator Stephenson pretends to thinks he hasn't done a thing discreditable in broadcasting money, liquor and picnics to get elected to the United States Senate. At the same time, we bet Wisconsin would like it better if it were Kansas that had to bear the obliquitousness of the thing.

Says the Jacksonville Times-Union: "If some men get their way twice running they think they are running the world." It's curious how big some of 'em feel in spite of the fact that if it had been left to them to invent and make a locomotive, the ox cart would be running on slow time from New York for all points South.

The value of Wilmington's commerce expands continuously, her banking business keeps on growing, building operations foot up more than $100,000 a month, the gilt edge on real estate propositions broadens all the time, values stiffen, and prosperity reigns, because the interests here are peculiarly diversified. The crops of this region are so varied that they turn loose cash nearly every month in the year, but the one thing lacking to assure substantial and lasting progress is more large industries and numerous small ones of different kinds. Let's quit waiting for George to do it. "The gods help those who help themselves."

BANKS AND INDUSTRIES.

Wilmington is to have two more banks, as was announced in the Star on Sunday. It does not take much trouble to organize a bank in this city, for just as soon as the subscription books are open the stock is eagerly subscribed. In fact, the stock for the Dime Savings Bank has been oversubscribed, and it is quite likely that several times the necessary amount of capital would be forthcoming were it needed. In all probability, the banking enterprise which Joseph W. Little, Esq., is promoting will meet with the same eagerness for stock.

We learn from this that there is capital in Wilmington, always ready for investment. Whenever there is an opportunity to invest Wilmington money at home, when the enterprises are promising of results, it is readily seized. When there are no opportunities, Wilmington's moneyed men freely invest in enterprises far away from home. Stacks of Wilmington money is invested abroad and when a promoter comes along with a meritorious prospect he is sure to list many takers in this city. This indicates that the people of this city have surplus money and that they want to invest it. In fact, they will and do invest whenever the opportunities are presented to them. Give them a chance at some home industries.

So far as banks are concerned, our people almost run over themselves to take stock. The reason is that Wilmington banks are well managed without a single exception and that the banking business flourishes in Wilmington. The city has gotten to be a great financial center and is the clearing house for hundreds of banks in the Carolinas. The banks here challenge the confidence of investors because the men who are in charge of them are safe and successful to an eminent degree. They are enterprising, foresighted, and farsighted, and rank among the South's best financiers. Their names connected with a banking movement at once give it strength, so all they have got to do is to say the word and up goes another bank.

Wilmington banks are marvelously prosperous institutions. Their growth is on a steady and rapid scale. They do business all over the country and their capital is aiding in building many a town in North and South Carolina. They stand back of many of the great industries and enterprises all over the Carolinas. The present banking resources in the camparatively small city of Wilmington are $15,000,000, or about $575 to every man, woman and child in the city. If that capital were used in fostering industries in Wilmington, the banks would be just as flourishing and the city would grow at a more rapid rate. Industries would give employment to the city's people, bring others here, and Wilmington would not only experience the normal percentage of growth but would equal the rapid strides of those Southern cities which are manufacturing and growing at a rapid rate. The cities which are developing are those which have become manufacturing cities. Wilmington is lending them money to manufacture and this city is largely the banking center for the most prosperous and progressive cities of the Carolinas. The demands of their industries are greater than their home capital, hence they find a good money market in Wilmington.

Why can't we reverse this condition and utilize our home capital in developing Wilmington? We can do it only by establishing industrial enterprises that will patronize the home banks and keep our money at home. Wilmington is proud of her banks and her financial standing and reputation, and while we are gratified to see all our banks growing and others established, this is a good time to say that we ought to think about starting something else besides banks. Of course, banks are bound to be successful in a country that has such rich and varied resources and is developing so wonderfully as is the Carolinas, but, instead of putting all our eggs in one basket, let us diversify our investing opportunities. The fact that our banks are strong and prosperous, and that there is plenty of money here, is all the more reason why Wilmington should become a great manufacturing centre. With all its strong financial advantages, added to the unequalled facilities here for manufacturing, we can make Wilmington a hive of industry. Will we do it? Will we start?

A city's banking resources indicate prosperity, for plenty of money speaks for itself along that line, but be it remembered that the growing cities are those which manufacture and are borrowers instead of lenders. If they are not borrowers they keep their money at home turning the wheels of local industry. The banking resources of the rapidly developing city of Dayton, Ohio, are about $11,000,000, compared to Wilmington's $15,000,000, yet Dayton has 120,000 population to Wilmington's 25,748. Dayton has more than 1,000 manufacturing enterprises and that is where Dayton's capital is instead of in the banks. Those 1,000 or more industries absorb all their home capital, and are drawing on Cleveland, Chicago, New York and other money centers, and they are making a profit and keeping it at home, on the other fellow's money. Reverse the situation in Dayton, take its money in industries and put it in bank resources and Dayton would be sustaining the industries of other cities instead of her own. How much better off is Dayton with $50,000,000 invested in industries than to add it to her banking resources and have $61,000,000 in the banks? Dayton's resources are in her flourishing industries, and consequently her population is growing at a rapid rate. From a small place a few years ago it is getting to be one of America's most flourishing cities.

Just as our bankers have succeeded in banking and command followers, so have Dayton's business men succeeded in manufacturing and have their followers. They are industrial leaders, and, therefore, Dayton people invest their money in industries because her industrial captains have succeeded and have their confidence. Why cannot Wilmington have some industrial as well as financial leaders who can always start something by simply handing around the stock list for factories just as is done in Wilmington when it is desired to start a new bank?

WOMAN'S SPHERE BROADENING.

In seven States of the Union women can vote and do about everything a man can do, unless it is to grow a rum blossom on the tip of her nose. The States which have enlarged woman's privileges till they are almost as great as her preogatives, are Wyoming Washington, Idaho, Colorado, Utah, Kansas and California. The men in those States voted political privileges to women because the women took a notion that they wanted them.

When a woman wants anything, from a Fall hat to an Australian ballot, and gets behind a man like she knows how all right, he gets a move on him to deliver the goods. Consequently, and, therefore, just as soon as the women of North Carolina make up their minds that they want to vote, sit in the conventions, hold offices, and get several more kinds of reins in their hands, you will see Tar Heels gravely considering the situation and putting up enough white flags to cause a run on the muslin market. Of course, at present North Carolina women are kept down with a pretty dress, a modish hat, a box of candy, or a big bouquet, but when they get to agitating and demanding and getting behind the average North Carolinian, he is going to surrender all his antidiluvian convictions and Noah ideas and put on style like those Western men.

It is hard to tell whether those Westerners are simply hacked, or have come to the conclusion that it's time to broaden women's sphere and place them on an equal footing with men. Anyhow, women's sphere is constantly expanding, and Judge Clarke has looked ahead and is willing to save trouble and give in as soon as he gets elected to the Senate. He sees what's coming and he wants to be at the head of the procession without waiting for the suffragettes to get behind him. If there are any women who ought to vote, if they want to do so, it is the women of North Carolina. They are not bothering about it right now, but if they did have the privilege of going to the ballot box, we'll bet they wouldn't be caught at a picnic where campaign liquor and $2 bills are handed around according to the methods of Senators Stephenson and Lorimer. No woman would think of being as cheap a skate as masculine voters who hang out around ward heelers for a sandwich or a stein or so.

We are not advocating woman suffrage, but are just ruminating and throwing out a few hints as how it would be if North Carolina women were to take it into their heads that they wanted their sphere broadened. If they are not treated right and get all the nice things they want, they may start a suffragette movement that will be a great compliment to Judge Clark.

Men and editors are beginning to see the inevitable, and the fact that several days ago the men of California voted overwhelmingly for a woman suffrage amendment to the State constitution, shows which way the wind is blowing. The Jacksonville Times-Union, which probably is intimated by Florida women, has taken an advanced view of this question. In fact, it is just about getting ready to put up the white flag as soon as the Florida women take a notion to start something. At least, here are some interesting and illuminating views frankly expressed by our esteemed and lady-like Florida contemporary:

"The men of California were probably convinced that the majority of the women of the State desired to vote. If so they were entirely right in extending the privilege. The danger from woman's suffrage would not come from woman's voting but from her not voting. It is believed in many of the States, whether correctly or not, that the majority of the better class of women would not vote, while the majority of the worse class would. We do not believe this has proven true of any of the States that have thus far accorded to woman the privilege of voting. We do not believe that any State that has tried the experiment has found any bad results. This, however, is no proof that woman's suffrage would work well in all the States. It has been adopted in States where the women desired the privilege and were ready to exercise it. We do not use the word "ready" in the sense of exceptional fitness, for we believe women are as fit as men for the suffrage in any State. If the large majority of them, however, do not want it, it may be properly withheld. We do not believe it would be withheld in any State whose voters were convinced that the large majority of women desired to vote. But the movement will come eastward. Woman's suffrage is steadily gaining ground. Prejudice against it is steadily falling away. We believe that ultimately women as well as men will vote in all the States of the Union and when they do the government will be as well administered as it is now. We doubt whether it will be better administered. The women and men of a family will generally—almost universally—agree in politics and the result of doubling the number of voters will be a stand-off. We do not see any reason for the belief that woman's suffrage has made any change in the government of any of the States that have adopted it. As it is, the man's vote is rather the vote of the family than his individual affair. The views of the voter are colored by the views of those about him. The main result of woman's suffrage would be the giving of two votes instead of one to the family."

The Turks do not seem to wear and fezzers in their cap.

CURRENT COMMENT.

Whether speaking in the spirit of prophecy or advocacy. It seems imperative to admit that woman suffrage is on a certain way to triumph. The victory of such an issue in the great and progressive State of California merely indicates that there must be soundness of basis to the claims of the women upon the ballot. In view of this fact and the promise that such a suffrage is sweeping this country, it is well to entertain the inherited idea that woman is too strong and consciously dominant as a sex to lose anything of her inherent gentleness and industry when the wave shall have swept the nation and it is encouraging, too, to believe that the entrance of woman into politics, whatever may be our personal conception of the proprieties of such a move, is practically sure to cultivate the demand for probity, sincerity and honesty among candidates. —Charlotte Observer.

A news incident of the past week points the faulty system under which we preserve, or rather do not preserve, vital statistics in Georgia. W. W. Williamson, of Collins, Miss., was, for good and sufficient reasons, seeking to trace his Georgia relatives for some generations in the past. If he secured reliable information in Georgia, it was a matter of luck and not of scientific efficiency. The matter of keeping a scrupulously accurate record of vital statistics is nothing more nor less than keeping books for posterity. In Europe, it is possible in the majority of the countries to trail the descent of the humblest peasant back to the middle ages. In several of the more progressive American commonwealths, complete and far-reaching systems of birth and mortuary records have been in operation for some years, and in time to come an accuracy approximating that of Europe will be among the State commonplaces.—Atlanta Constitution.

The Governors of the Cotton States are called in conference to devise ways and means for holding cotton. There is another suggestion that a call is issued to all cotton growers to hold cotton off the market for ten days. Saturday there was a string of cotton-laden wagons a block long on north Main street, waiting to force more cotton on a gorged market. The price was the lowest of the year, but had it been 17 cents a pound little more cotton could have been in evidence. There were negroes on almost all the wagons. None of this cotton had been offered to Columbia warehouses, where it could have been stored and part payment received. That is a condition conferences for holding cotton should face. We do not believe one of these bodies has fully taken into consideration three important influences when they recommend "holding" and issue "calls" to the farmers. One is the ignorance—the illiteracy—of so many cotton producers (there are 96,000 negro owners and independent renters of farms in South Carolina alone) which makes it impossible to communicate with them quickly; another is the psychology which produces panic; the third, which should have come first, is the necessity of so many thousands of cotton growers to get hold of "cash" as soon after the first of September as possible. These people are pressed to sell by creditors who in turn, are pressed by their creditors.—Columbia State.

It's easier to make a break than it is to mend it.

MR. POTEET SAVES WIFE

His Neighbor, Who Would Not Take His Good Advice, is Still in Poor Condition.

Loray, N. C.—Mr. W. S. Poteet, of this city, says: "My wife suffered from a disease common to all women, for about three years. She took one bottle of Cardui, and was cured—sound and well.

About three months ago she was taken down again, and I went at once and got her another bottle of Cardui. She felt better very soon. By the time the bottle was used up she was well again.

We had a neighbor who was in about the same condition as my wife, and we advised her to take Cardui, but she did not. Her medicine bill was $30, and she is not strong yet. Which was the best? Think of paying 30 to 1!

I will certainly speak a good word for this wonderful remedy, every chance I have. It is the greatest woman's remedy on earth."

For pain, weakness, irregularity and any of the troubles from which weak women suffer, Cardui has proven its helping, curative power.

For nearly a life time it has been in use for weak women, thousands of whom have written enthusiastic letters telling of truly remarkable cures by this old, reliable tonic for weak, sick, suffering women.

Why should it not help you, too? Try it.

CONVICT DIED OF WOUNDS

Negro Who Was Shot by Guards Succumbs---Coroner's Jury Investigates Circumstances and Renders Verdict

Joe Hurst, the negro convict who was shot by guards while trying to escape from the force on the Federal Point road, last Thursday, died at the James Walker Memorial Hospital at 1 o'clock yesterday morning, and a coroner's jury which was convened to investigate the circumstances of the death last night rendered a verdict that Hurst came to his death by gun shot wounds inflicted with guns in the hands of Guards Aiken, J. A. Hicks and T. L. Stokes, while he was at tempting to escape.

The jury was composed of Louis J. Poisson, Esq., foreman; John W. Gafford, Esq., secretary; Messrs. W. A. McGowan, W. B. Savage, Roger A. Montgomery and A. H. Croom. The jury at 3 o'clock went to the hospital and viewed the body, after which examination of witnesses was begun in the grand jury room at the Court House. Adjournment was taken at 4:30 until 6 o'clock in order to allow time to bring in from the camp two convicts who witnessed the shooting, the idea being to get an account of the affair from disinterested sources. The examination was concluded and the verdict returned at 7:30 last night.

The first witness examined yesterday afternoon was Ernest Aiken, a guard. He said that last Thursday the force was engaged in hauling sand to fill in a place in the road; that Joe Hurst refused to help in the work and Capt. T. L. Stokes called to him and told him to come to him, whereupon the negro started to run. Hurst was then told to halt and refusing to obey the command Capt. T. L. Stokes shot at him and called to Guards Aiken and Hicks to do the same. They obeyed with the result that the negro fell with eight or nine buck shot in him.

Next to be examined was Dr. Joseph Akerman, acting county superintendent of health, who testified that on the morning of October 12th he was notified that a convict had been shot on the Federal Point road and was on his way to the hospital; that he saw him about noon; that there were some eight or nine punctured wounds in his back and arms; that on Friday, October 13th, his condition became much worse and an operation was deemed necessary. The abdominal cavity was opened and two perforations were made in the bowels. A buckshot was found in abdominal cavity. The patient was in bad condition after the operation, but rallied towards morning and remained in fair condition until Sunday afternoon when he began to sink and died about 1 o'clock Monday morning. In the opinion of Dr. Akerman the wounds found at the time of the operation were the cause of the negro's death.

J. A. Hicks, another guard, testified that when Joe Hurst refused to work Captain Stokes called him out to use the strap upon him. Hurst, he said, slid off of the back of the car and started to run. Captain Stokes called to him to stop. The negro backed off a few feet and then started off in a run, when Capt. Stokes fired at him with his revolver shooting twice. Hurst was 25 yards away, he said, when Capt. Stokes first shot at him and about 50 yards when he shot the last time. Mr. Aiken, he said, shot at the negro twice with a doble barrel shot gun. The witness said that he shot at him one time with a shot gun.

Constable Savage asked Mr. W. H. Shearin, superintendent of the county roads, what would have happened to a guard if he were to let a convict walk off without trying to stop him, and Mr. Shearin replied that he would be liable to indictment.

Adjournment was then taken until 6 o'clock, at which time two convicts were on hand to testify as was also Mr. A. J. Stokes, engineer on the train operated by the county. Mr. Stokes testified that he was standing on the engine at the time of the shooting. He heard Capt. Stokes call three times to the negro to halt. Hurst picked up a shovel but dropped it when Capt. Stokes pulled out his pistol. The negro then started off in a run and then the firing of the gaurds was begun.

Goldie Murray, a convict, said that Hurst did not half work on the morning of the shooting. After the force got through work on the car they sat down and when Capt. Stokes called all got up, except Joe Hurst, who jumped off the car and picked up a shovel, which Capt. Stokes told him to put down. Capt. Stokes called to the negro to come back, but instead he ran off. Capt. Stokes pulled out his pistol, but the other convicts begged him not to shoot saying that they would catch Hurst and bring him back. George Green, a convict, caught hold of Hurst, but he jerked away and went running down the road. It was then that Capt. Stokes fired at Hurst, who was some eight or ten feet away. Captain Stokes called upon the other guards to shoot and they did. The negro ran for about 100 yards and fell, mortally wounded. The witness said that Joe Hurst remarked on Tuesday preceding the shooting that he "was going to stand a shot."

The last witness was George Green, the convict who tried to hold Hurst, and his story merely corroborated the testimony of Murray.

Hurst was sentenced at the last term of Superior Court to 12 months on the county roads, having been convicted of a charge of forgery. He found a check on the streets for $60 and persuaded another negro to endorse it. Hurst then had the check cashed by a negro furniture dealer and as the negro who endorsed the check did not receive any of the money he was found not guilty. Hurst admitted in court that he got the other negro to endorse the check and testified that he alone received benefit therefrom. He had been on the roads only about two weeks when he made the dash for his liberty.

—A. J. Dicksey, a young white man, was arrested yesterday morning on a warrant charging him with damage to personal property, it being alleged that while intoxicated he broke up a stove at the home of his father, Mr. J. J. Dicksey. He was arrested by Hall Officer J. S. Lane.

SAD DEATH OF YOUNG MAN

Mr. Leon Corbett Passed Away Yesterday Morning After Brief Illness —Funeral Services This Afternoon

Hundreds of friends were shocked and sadened yesterday morning when it became known that Mr. Leon Lewis Corbett, son of Capt. and Mrs. W. F. Corbett, had passed away at 5 o'clock in the morning at the home of his parents, No. 209 Walnut street, after an illness extending over a period of only ten days.

He was stricken with what was thought to be malarial fever. However, this rapidly developed into typhoid and other complications and he grew steadily worse until the Winged Messenger came yesterday morning at the hour mentioned.

The funeral service will be held from Grace Methodist church at 4 o'clock this afternoon, conducted by the pastor, Rev. J. C. Wooten. The interment will be in Oakdale cemetery.

There was probably no better known young man in Wilmington than Mr. Corbett, especially in religious circles, and none was held in higher esteem than he. He was a most devout Christian and was never so happy as when he was doing something for his Master. He was a prominent member of Grace Methodist church, being a steward of the church and active in the several branches of the organization. He was thoroughly consecrated to Christian work and it always gave him great pleasure to labor for the Lord. He was a leading spirit in the Baraca class of Grace church and was also closely identified with the work of the Y. M. C. A., especially the Yoke Fellows' Band of that organization. Every Sunday found him out with the Yoke Fellows holding services in prison, county convict camps, county home, or some other point where regular services are held by the faithful band of workers. He was a power for good in the community and he will be sorely missed in the circles

His father and mother are almost heartbroken in their hour of great sorrow as are his brother and three sisters. They were all devoted to each other and constituted a happy family. Hundreds of friends tenderly sympathize with the bereaved in their deep sorrow. Surviving are his parents, Capt. and Mrs. W. F. Corbett; his only brother, Mr. W. Z. Corbett; three sisters, Mrs. H E O'Keefe, Mrs. W. R. Taylor and Miss Jennie Corbett, all of this city. Many friends called at the grief-stricken home yesterday to express their heartfelt sympathy and offer tenderest condolences.

Mr. Corbett was 36 years old and was an exceedingly popular young man. At one time he was a railroad conductor, but at the time of his death he was employed in the office of the Atlantic Coast Line, holding a position in the freight claim agent's office. He was a member of the Masonic order and the Independent Order of Odd Fellows and was quite active in fraternal as well as religious circles.

An Appreciation.

As the sun kissed clouds flushed the eastern horizon of the new dawn, the gentle spirit of Leon Corbett entered into everlasting rest.

Rapidly sped the tidings from lip to lip, and heart to heart, that this pleasant neighbor and companion, this gentle kindly friend, and consecrated servant of God, had left the earth, and would no more be seen and heard among men. With tearful grief we gathered around his still form, and gazed upon his noble features, so calm and kindly in his last peaceful sleep, and we prayed that a double portion of his spirit might be given to us.

He loved helpless little children with a tender and rare devotion; he was gentle to the old and in his own home was a joy and comfort. He was generous of heart, large of soul, no appeal for help was ever made in vain to him; he literally gave his last dollar to the unfortunate.

He was a deeply spiritual man, and lived to do the Master's will. He will be sadly missed by his neighbors and friends, and those he loved to help. No more will his kindly smile be seen in the religious services which he held in the jail, county home or convict camp. No more will his deep rich voice be heard in teaching in the Sabbath School, or in the prayer service, testifying for his Saviour, whom he loved so well.

Oh, how poverty stricken we are, without the faithful soldier of the cross. But God has taken him and we can but say: Congratulations for you dear Leon. MRS. W. H. SHAW.

"AUDBUON" NEW SUBURB

Will be Located on Car Line Between City and Winter Park—Extensive Plans Are Being Prepared for Place.

It is learned that the same interests which are back of the successful development of Winter Park Gardens have on foot most comprehensive plans for a suburban place to be located on the trolley line between Winter Park Gardens and this city.

Realizing the great need of parks and playgrounds in the city of Wilmington and the great difficulty in securing them, it is proposed by those interested in the development of Audubon, as the suburb will be called, to provide an elaborate system of beautiful boulevards, parks and playgrounds, to be held in reserve perpetually for the use and pleasure not only of the residents of Audubon, but of all the residents of Greater Wilmington. There will be avenues 110 feet wide, with parkways in the center 40 feet in width, on which will be planted double rows of the best varieties of shade trees. Every few blocks there will be set aside squares for playgrounds and small parks, on which squares residences will face; and the boulevards will also connect up a system of larger parks.

Along the suburban car line there will be an avenue about 150 feet wide, and in this avenue a parkway at least ... feet in width will be provided, and will be devoted to flowering shrubs and ornamental trees.

Careful restrictions are to be made as to the cost and types of dwellings to be erected in this new suburb, as it is the purpose of the developers that this shall become one of the most attractive residential sections in the South; and it is expected that it will eventually be the very heart of the residential part of "The City Beautiful."

The surveys of the section to be immediately opened will be completed within 10 days, and by the 1st of November it is expected that this property, so desirable for home builders, will be offered for sale. Prior to that time a map of the property will be published, showing in detail the attractive features which the development will have. One feature which will appeal especially to home builders is that the lots are laid out with the generous width of 70 feet; the idea of those developing Audubon being that it is almost impracticable to make a beautiful place if the residences are cramped on to narrow lots.

It is hardly necessary to say that the name of the place has been selected in honor of John James Audubon, the great lover of birds, whose books on bird life are accepted as authority the world over.

TRIAL TODAY BEFORE JURY

Cases Against Deputy Cox and Mr. Croom Continued From Yesterday's Session—Other Cases Investigated.

Charges of assault upon a policeman, obstructing an officer in the discharge of his duty, and disorderly conduct, preferred against Deputy Sheriff W. Harvey Cox and former Special Officer Tom Croom, as the result of a clash between city and county authorities on Chesnut, near 10th street, early Saturday morning, were not investigated in the Recorder's court yesterday morning, the trial having been continued until today when a jury will be empanneled to pass upon the guilt or innocence of the two men. It is said that both sides will be represented by counsel and the cases will be hard fought.

The case against John H. Robinson, colored, charged with forgery, was also continued until today. Continuance in this case was made necessary on account of the absence of Mr. Sam Blossom, whose name the negro is alleged to have forged to notes aggregating $300, which were paid by the Southern National Bank. Mr. Blossom had not been summoned is the reason that he was not present. A subpoena was issued for him yesterday.

Wm. H. Jones, a white man, was arraigned on a charge of damage to personal property, it being alleged that he broke down a door to a house of ill fame Saturday night. The warrant was signed by Katie King, who did not testify against the defendant, so the case was dismissed at her cost.

Clyde Gilligan, a white man, was fined $10 and costs for drunkenness and disorderly conduct. Warren Winslow, white, was assessed $5 and costs for similar offenses. E. Griffin and Ben Burnett, both colored, were required to pay $5 each and costs for an affray. Mattie Robinson, colored, was found not guilty of a charge of larceny by trick. A young white boy was the complainant and two other white boys were witnesses. The testimony was to the effect that she got 50 cents from one of the boys, but the Recorder held that the manner in which she secured it did not constitute larceny by trick. She was allowed to go her way. James Ware, colored, was found not guilty of vagrancy. Sam Calder, colored, was fined $25 and costs, or three months on the county roads, for carrying a concealed weapon. W. A. Bordeaux, white, was assessed $5 and costs for drunkenness and disorderly conduct. Several plain drunks were assessed the usual amount.

It was said at police headquarters yesterday that Recorder Furlong reprimanded Policeman A. A. Nelms and ordered him from the court room. It was said that Mr. Nelms made some remark to Attorney Peschau, whereupon the Recorder told him he was entirely too smart and ordered him to leave the court room. The officer said that he lost no time in obeying the order of the court as he did not care for a possible 30-day sentence for contempt of court.

—Mr. Andrew J. Shepard and wife, Mrs. Lillie M. Shepard, have agreed to separate and papers to this effect were filed for record yesterday in the office of the Register of Deeds.

Mr. Clayton Giles, Sr., presided, and the shareholders not only elected directors but made other arrangements for the opening of the first series about November 1st.

Directors were elected as follows: Messrs. M. J. Heyer, J. W. Simpson, Clayton Giles, Sr., Daniel H. Penton, A. O. Schuster, W. H. McEachern, B. F. Keith, J. F. Rulfs, Adolph Einstein, L. Hanson, G. H. Hutaff, Z. J. Carter. Immediately after the adjournment of the shareholders the directors met and elected officers as follows:

President—M. J. Heyer.
Vice President—Clayton Giles, Sr.
Secretary and Treasurer—L. J Carter.
Attorney—Henry Heyer.

The office of the association will be in the office of the Hanover Realty Co., No. 207 North Front street, of which organization Mr. L. J. Carter is president. The first series will be opened November 1st and will begin with 1,000 shares in force. Most of this amount has already been subscribed for. There are ten building and loan associations in operation in Wilmington now and all those putting forth any effort are doing a splendid business. The new association is backed by some of the best business men in the city, as a glance at the list of directors will convince any one, and will no doubt claim a large portion of the business from the start and grow rapidly as the other associations here have grown.

Early Morning Marriage

Justice Bornemann officiated at an early morning marriage Sunday, the happy event being celebrated in his office on Princess street in the presence of a large number of his friends of the stage, who were in his office enjoying to the fullest his accordeon selections. The marriage was celebrated at 2 o'clock and joined in wedlock Miss Nanie Long, of Charlotte, and Mr. William E. Smith, of Wilmington. The bride arrived on the Seaboard train at midnight. The license was secured on August 18th last and everything was in readiness for the ceremony upon the arrival of the bride. Mr. and Mrs. Smith will reside in this city and will have the best wishes of many friends for a long and happy wedded life.

MRS. ELIZABETH KING DEAD

Most Estimable Christian Woman Passed Away Sunday Afternoon

It was with deep regret that many friends learned Sunday of the death of Mrs. Elizabeth A. King, relict of the late Mr. Samuel A. King, which occurred at the family residence, No. 217 North Fifth street, at 1:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon. Mrs. King had been in feeble health for some time, but there was no appearance of immediate danger. On Saturday afternoon, however, there was a decided change for the worse and she grew rapidly weaker until the end came at the hour mentioned.

About seven years ago Mrs. King met with an accident from which she sustained injuries that rendered her practically helpless. Since then she has been almost a constant sufferer; yet, amid it all, there was never a murmur or complaint. Her cheerful resignation and radiant, happy smile were a constant source of comfort and inspiration to her friends, and to those who tenderly ministered to her during her long illness. The results of the accident referred to, together with her advanced age, were the direct cause of her death.

Mrs. King was a member of Grace Methodist Episcopal Church, and while in recent years was denied the privilege of active Christian work, she was deeply interested in the progress of the church of her adoption. Her influence, however, was distinctly felt in the home which she adorned, and from which she will be sadly missed.

Mrs. King was born near Newbern, in Craven county, North Carolina, November 10th, 1833, and was, therefore, in the 78th year of her age. Her father was the late Mr. Frederick Hudler, who will be recalled by most of the older citizens of this city. Her mother, who was formerly a Miss Hargett, of Newbern, died while Mrs. King was yet an infant.

The funeral was conducted from her late residence at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, by her pastor, Rev. J. C. Wooten, assisted by Rev. Dr. A. D. McClure, pastor of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, of this city. The interment was in Oakdale cemetery. The pall-bearers were: Messrs. Jasper Pratt, W. B. Cooper, Robt. C. Merritt, John R. Hanby, Albert Stockard and J. A. McNorton, Esq.

Friends will tenderly sympathize with those bereaved in the death of Miss Evelyn Frink Van Bokkelen, youngest daughter of the late Spencer D. C., and Mrs. Anna Burgess Van Bokkelen, which occurred at an early hour yesterday afternoon at the home of her sister, Mrs. Allan Nichols, No. 315 South Front street, after an extended illness. While the death was not unexpected, it came as a shock to the family and friends. The funeral services will occur this afternoon at 5 o'clock from the residence of her sister, and the interment will be in Greenwood cemetery, Brooklyn, N. Y., for which the funeral party will leave on this evening's northbound train.

Mr. Collins Very Ill.

The many friends of Mr. H. W. Collins, who with Mrs. Collins, recently returned from Florida, will regret to know that he is in a critical condition at the James Walker Memorial Hospital. For the first week or ten days that Mr. Collins was in the hospital his condition gave encouragement to loved ones, but friends everywhere will regret to know that for the past several days he has not been so well.

LUXURIOUS SHAVING PARLORS.

Metropolitan Establishment That is a Model of Sanitation.

Cowell's new shaving parlors and gentlemen's dressing room, on Front and Princess streets, would be a credit to any city, and it marks a new era of tonsorial progress in the luxury, magnificence and comfort of its equipment. It is located at No. 21 Princess street, in the basement of the handsome steel building of the People's Savings Bank, a location of great convenience to the business district of the city.

Money has not been spared to make Cowell's shaving parlors as beautiful in its appearance as it is in its completeness as to equipments and comforts. All the floors have been laid with tiling inlaid with octagonal units, and the walls are handsomely decorated and wainscoted with polished gray marble. There is a battery of five of Koch's most modern barber chairs with a wall ground of art marble with cameo and sapphire effects predominating. The frame is 25 feet, six inches in length and 72 inches in height, enclosing magnificent heavy plate mirrors extending en pannel for 18 feet, three inches.

The battery of Koch sanitary chairs are beauties, with heavy embossed morocco upholstering and handsome enamel frames. They swing and tilt with hydraulic movement and are the most modern devices furnished from the famous outfitters' establishment. The shop is equipped with a Koch sterilizing cabinet supplied with a perpetual jet of steam which assures the acme of sanitation. Fitted to the front wall is a luxuriously upholstered settee, 18 feet in length and back three feet in height. There is a shoe shining booth of gray marble, and the equipment includes a cash register and other adjuncts that make it a model place of business.

In the rear of the shaving parlor are bath and gentlemen's dressing rooms, with tiled floors and gray marble wainscoting and boudoirs. There are shower baths of hot and cold water and in every respect this feature is admirable as well as complete. Throughout the shop are enamel lavatories supplied with hot and cold water, the heating for that purpose being done with a Rudd gas heater from which the water and heating pipes run to all portions of the establishment. Altogether it is a swell shaving parlor, and that masterful razor artist, Jack Cowell, is on the job with a staff of adept and clever shavers. Proprietor Cowell certainly is to be commended for the enterprise and modern spirit he has demonstrated in providing the city of Wilmington with a barber shop that simply is a gem.

Secretary Cooper Attending.

Cooper, of the Chamber of Commerce, left yesterday for Norfolk where he will join the delegates en route to the Atlantic Deeper Waterways Convention, which will be in progress until Friday of this week at Richmond, Va. The meeting will be largely attended and there will likely be other delegates to go from this city while the sessions are in progress.

Is the World Growing Better?

Many things go to prove that it is. The way thousands are trying to help others is proof. Among them is Mrs. W. W. Gould, of Pittsfield, N. H. Finding good health by taking Electric Bitters, she now advises other sufferers, everywhere, to take them. "For years I suffered with stomach and kidney trouble," she writes. "Every medicine I used failed till I took Electric Bitters. But this great remedy helped me wonderfully." They'll help any woman. They're the best tonic and finest liver and kidney remedy that's made. Try them. You'll see. 50c at R. R. Bellamy's.

THEATRICAL NOTES

Not what you have seen every time you have attended a musical comedy, but something different, built on original lines, with a well defined plot, and characters that necessitate actors of ability.

That is why Max Spiegel produced the new musical comedy "The Winning Widow," and gave it a sumptuous setting and splendid cast, that has made it an object of admiration on the part of the multitude of theatre-goers who have patronized it so far this season. This musical offering is booked at the Academy tonight. There are forty people in the cast and on the stage when the curtain is up, led by the clever prima donna Miss Perle Barti, late of "The Kissing Girl," and "The Broken Idol" and those always funny men Joe M. Fields and Geo. B. Scanlon.

While neither a chorus nor a series of vaudeville acts were necessary to the success of the comedy, Max Spiegel has lavishly provided for both. The richness and brilliancy of the costumes admirably set forth the charms of the young ladies comprising the chorus, and those competent to speak critically of such things, say that there never was more artistically or harmoniously gowned chorus than the one in "The Winnning Widow."

The comedy is the joint work of three of the most successful writers of musical comedy. They are Frank Kennedy, who is responsible for the book; Will Heelan, who wrote the graceful and humorous lyrics, and Seymour Furth, the composer of the music. A few of the song hits include "What Would We Do Without The Moon," "I Love You," "The Light That Lies in Woman's Eyes," "There's Something Awfully Cute About a Soldier," "Never Get Cross With a Girl," "Don't Get Peevish Pet," etc.

Judging from the triumph of "The Winning Widow" and the lavish press notices it has received Wilmington folks are certainly in for a rare treat tonight. The papers of Norfolk were warm in their praise of the attraction, not only highly praising the company, but proclaiming the production as one of the most brilliant ever seen in Norfolk. The press at other points has also paid tributes to the merry attraction. Seats went on sale at Plummer's yesterday.

JUST FOUR OF THE BEAUTIES

Will be Seen in the Big Company, Mostly Girls, at the Academy of Music Tonight.

Splendid Dramatic Treat

"The White Sister," a dramatization from F. Marion Crawford's best seller and a novel which has commanded the attention of the reading world and still holds unbounded interest, will be the attraction at the Academy Saturday, matinee and night, and the countless theatre patrons who recall Viola Allen's great triumph as Sister Giovanna will find in Lillian Rhodes, her successor, an actress who can be wholly depended upon to bring out all the dramatic fire with which the role is imbued. The remainder of the cast includes Howard Sydney, Grace Young, Philip Lord, Effie La Croix, Adele Leonard, W. W. Shuttleworth, Victor Fletcher, Morris Foster and others of equal reliability. Seats will go on sale Friday at Plummer's.

At the Bijou.

The Bijou opened the new week yesterday, is both flashy and classy style, presenting one of the best bills ever offered in Wilmington or in any moving picture theatre anywhere for that matter. The variety was splendid, the powerfully dramatic holding the interest of the onlookers in an intense grip, while the fun of the smile-pictures convulsed them.

Today's bill will be another fine one. It will be simply great for variety, and will include in the list of films some of the biggest novelties yet flashed on a moving picture screen, while the music will be of an especially high order. Mr. Frank Banks has made a happy selection for today, and so this charming balladist will immensely delight his host of admirers. Today's Bijou bill should certainly not be missed.

At The Grand

The usual big and attractive bill in motion pictures will be offered at The Grand today. While no titles are announced patrons may be assured that there will be both variety and quality. There will be three big films all told and both comedy and drama will be included in the offering. The Grand orchestra continues to be a big feature at The Grand and Nat Hilt is rapidly winning his way to the hearts and risibles of Wilmington people by his inimitable character songs. The one for today will be "When I Hear That Dreamy Waltz." This will be illustrated and will be rendered only as Hilt can render them.

The New Lyric.

The little Market street house played to S. R. O. for two performances yesterday and all said that the bill was one of the best that has been seen here. The Four Bullocks & Co., of new people are furnishing the bill for this week and each and everyone stands out for himself as a performer, little Victor being the star of the bill. Then comes Baby Bertha, of which too much cannot be said. There are five special acts and for a finish a big act by the entire company of seven people. Then there are two reels of high-class motion pictures. The public is asked not to forget the special matinees Wednesday and Saturday when the admission will be only 10c. There are only two shows during the evening, 7:30 and 9 P. M.

MR. RUGH'S FINE TALKS.

Missionary Listened to by Large Assembly—Tells of China.

Displaying a varied and wonderful knowledge of missionary work, told in an earnest and forceful manner, Mr. Arthur Rugh, a member of the China Y. M. C. A. National Committee, addressed two large congregations at city churches and a mass meeting at the Y. M. C. A. Sunday and spoke at a reception given in his honor by the association last night.

Mr. Rugh's impressive manner and graphic concention of the great work being undertaken by missionaries in the foreign field, proved of unusual interest to his many listeners and he was accorded much praise by all who had the opportunity to hear him. Sunday morning he spoke at St. Andrew's Presbyterian church, and in the afternoon he addressed a largely attended mass meeting of men at the Y. M. C. A. Sunday evening he spoke at the First Baptist church. On the three occasions he spoke in particular of the work being carried on in China and from time to time in his address referred to the progress being made by the Chinese and the great possibilities of the future. He gave many vivid illustrations emphasizing the great need of Christian workers in that country.

Mr. Rugh was the guest of honor at the regular weekly meeting and fellowship supper of the Bible Study Club at the Y. M. C. A. last night, and following the session made an address. He talked along the same lines as in his previous addresses in this city with particular reference on this occasion to the great work being done by the Y. M. C. A. in China and of the aid it is giving the Christian Missionary boards in their efforts to get hold of the great masses of the Celestial Kingdom for Christ. His earnest appeal brought a desire into every heart to see the work prosper greatly.

PROF. OSLER IS RIGHT

Youth Succeeds Age—Gray Hair First Sign of Age—Harmless Remedy Restores Color.

Osler isn't the only man who turns down old age. In the business world the "young man" is always the one who picks the plums. It is an age of "new thought", "new talent," etc., and the old man is passed by in the race.

One of the first signs of coming age is the appearance of gray hairs. When you see them, act promptly. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy will correct this sign, which so often deceives people into thinking that age is really upon them. It is a well known fact that Sage and Sulphur will darken the hair. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur combines these old-time remedies with other agents, which remove dandruff and promote the growth of the hair.

The manufacturers of this remedy authorize the druggists to sell it under guarantee that the money will be refunded if it fails to do exactly as represented.

Don't look old before your time. Get a bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur today, and see what an improvement it will make in the appearance of your hair.

This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle, and is recommended and sold by all druggists.

COTTON DEVELOPS STRENGTH

Predictions of Frost and Less Active Selling Inspired More or Less General Covering in Market—Tone Was Quoted as Steady.

New York, Oct. 16.—Predictions of frost in the Western belt and rather less active selling inspired more or less general covering in the local cotton market today, and while rallies from the recent low records were not fully sustained, the close was steady, at a net advance of 26@14 points. Late months were relatively firm.

The market opened steady at a decline of 2 points to an advance of 1 point, and showed an advancing tendency from the start, owing to higher cables than expected and the outlook for colder weather in the Southwest. Leading spot people were sellers of the near months and January sold at 9 cents during the progress of the call, or right afterward, but failed to break into new low ground and following the publication of the Western belt forecast for frost in parts of Oklahoma and Texas, prices shot up sharply with active months selling 18 to 20 above the closing figures of Saturday. Around 9.43 for December and 9.33 for January, the upward movement was checked by heavier Southern offerings, while the demand from shorts became less urgent, and fluctuations later in the day were nervous and irregular, with the close some 15 or 20 points off from the best. Shorts were very heavy buyers during the day, and if anything it seemed that the South was a less active seller here than had been anticipated by local bears last week, while comparatively fewer reports were received regarding the interior spot and Southern spot markets officially reported showed a steadier tone in most cases, and in several instances slight advances. Rains were forecasted for the belt, as well as lower temperatures, but the outlook for rain seemed to make little impression on sentiment and local readers of the weather map appeared fairly confident that the temperatures would not work low enough during this cold snap to kill the plants. Private cables from Liverpool reported offerings of actual spot on an opening decline there, followed by a sharp rally on covering, probably on account of the cold weather talk.

Receipts at the ports today, 72,000 bales, against 72,000 last week and 77,195 last year. For the week, 450,000 bales, against 448,236 last week, and 77,195 last year.

Today's receipts at New Orleans, 7,235 bales, against 4,241 last year.

Spot closed quiet, ten points higher; middling uplands, 9.50; do. gulf, 9.75.

Averts Awful Tragedy.

Timely advice given Mrs. C. Willoughby, of Marengo, Wis., (R. No. 1) prevented a dreadful tragedy and saved two lives. Doctors had said her frightful cough was a "consumption" cough and could do little to help her. After many remedies failed, her aunt urged her to take Dr. King's New Discovery. "I have been using it for some time," she wrote, "and the awful cough has almost gone. It also saved my little boy when taken with a severe bronchial trouble." This matchless medicine has no equal for throat and lung troubles. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by R. R. Bellamy.

THE GRAIN MARKET.

Chicago, Oct. 16.—Although today for the first time since 1901 the visible supply of wheat in the United States went beyond sixty million bushels, the price of the cereal made a net gain of ¼@½c. The chief reason for the advance was that world shipments for the week were much less than expected. Corn finished a shade to ¼c. higher, but oats at a sixteenth to a quarter decline. At the end of trading, hog products varied from 5c. off to 15c. increase in cost.

DRY GOODS MARKET.

New York, October 16.—The cotton goods markets were quiet and steady during the day. Many large jobbing house buyers were in but their operations showed little expansion. Dress goods showed a steady improvement in demand. Yarns are easy. An effort is under way among the large silk manufacturers to limit the credits extended by raw silk factors.

LESS DEMAND FOR STOCKS

Market Loses Its Firm Tone—Filing of American Tobacco Company Agreement—Short Covering Ceased—Other Features Brought Out.

New York, October 16.—The demand for stocks fell off materially today and the market lost the firm tone which was its chief characteristic last week. Short covering, which was the mainstay of the market on its recent advance, ceased, and short covering was over. The market had also to meet the effect of extensive realizing sales, and there was a reaction which scaled down recent prices from one to two points.

Filing of the American Tobacco Company's reorganization plan in court was the one event of the day, with an especial bearing upon security values. The prophecy had been made frequently that the filing of the plan would be followed by a marked improvement in sentiment, but the Tobacco securities shared in the general heaviness of the list. The action of the market indicated that either the effect of the filing of the plan had been discounted or that on account of the determined opposition to the plan doubt was felt whether it would succeed. The plain intimation was received after the close of the market that the reorganization might be opposed by government officials as well as by rival tobacco interests. It was probably on account of the known strength of the opposition that the plan was virtually without influence upon trading, instead of being a decided bull factor. Reading and United States Steel showed most decidedly the effects of pressure.

Heaviness of the steel shares was not relieved by trade reports, which were more favorable. The bond market was irregular. Total sales, par value, $3,703,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call. Total sales, 990,100 shares.

HIDDEN DANGERS

Nature Gives Timely Warnings That No Wilmington Citizen Can Afford to Ignore

DANGER SIGNAL No. 1 comes from the kidney secretions. They will warn you when the kidneys are sick. Well kidneys excrete a clear, amber fluid. Sick kidneys send out a thin, pale and foamy, or a thick, red, ill smelling urine, full of sediment and irregular of passage.

DANGER SIGNAL No. 2 comes from the back. Back pains, dull and heavy, or sharp and acute, tell you of sick kidneys and warn you of the approach of dropsy, diabetes and Bright's disease. Doan's Kidney Pills act on sick kidneys. Here's Wilmington proof:

S. C. Winner, 275 E. Market street, Wilmington, N. C., says: "I still believe Doan's Kidney Pills to be an excellent kidney medicine and I cheerfully confirm the testimonial I gave in their favor in February, 1908. This remedy has been used in my family, being procured at Bellamy's Drug Store and it has given relief from backache and other symptoms of kidney complaint."

COMPLETION OF THE CANAL

Isthmian Commission Makes Important Recommendations as to the Great Gateway of Commerce—Lands, Etc.

Washington, Oct. 16.—Foreshadowing the early completion and opening of the Panama Canal, the Isthmian Canal Commission, in its annual report made public today, recommended Congressional legislation governing canal tolls, organization for the operation of the canal and for government of the Canal Zone, utilization of canal revenue to pay operating expenses, and to repay the capital invested, and other action. Expedition was urgently demanded in order to advise the commercial world of the use it may make of the great waterway, or the cost of sending ships through it and just when it will be opened.

The commission wished to give at least 18 months notice of the rates to permit the world's maritime interests time to readjust their routes and to build new ships and organize new transportation companies. It was also deemed desirable to put the canal to use as early as possible, not only to secure financial returns on the enormous capital invested, but to make possible the passage of the world's fleets without confusion or delay.

The report showed that the engineers' board has already found that all the concrete in the great Gatun locks will be laid by June 1, 1912, and five months later the locks on the Pacific side will be finished except the gates, which will be ready June 1, 1913. Meantime, by April 1, next, the giant spillway at Gatun would be at the 50-foot elevation and the entire dam there would be completed by the following Winter. The excavation through the Culebra Cut, the greatest earth digging enterprise the world has ever seen, will be completed July 1, 1913, if the slides are not in excess of the estimates. In that case, the exterior channel will be sufficiently advanced to pass the shipping that would use the canal.

Though these estimates were made a year ago, the commission states that there is no occasion to make any considerable changes. Though the concrete laying in the Gatun locks will be moved back a few months to January 1, 1913, this will not delay the erection of the gates or the completion of the work as a whole.

Time can be saved by making public announcement of the rates to be charged and the formulation of rules by which the tonnage of ships is to be determined. The commission is already preparing much information on these points for the guidance of Congress in legislating next session.

The commission expressed the belief that it can secure the best operating force for the canal from among the workers now employed on the canal. High wages were paid at the outset when it was difficult to obtain men on account of the bad reputation of the country and the temporary character of the employment. But the commission contended that as the death rate on the zone is much lower than for most parts of the United States, and as the operating work will be permanent, a much lower wage scale can be adopted. The commission regarded it as essential that the cost of operation shall be reduced to a minimum consistent with efficiency if reasonable tolls are to be established.

The total outlay for maintaining the canal will be for wages of the operative force, engineering work, sanitation and civil administration. The commission was insistent that the revenue of the canal should go to pay not only the operating expenses, but to repay the capital invested. Every legitimate means for raising revenue should be adopted, said the report, which recommended that the government should not only supply coal and oil for its own vessels, but should sell them to merchant shipping. The existing commissary, manufacturing plant and laundry, it was urged, should be continued for the benefit of government forces and government ownership of public utilities was proposed in a recommendation that the commissary furnish all these things to shipping passing through the canal for a consideration. It was suggested that the government should sell tools and appliances needed by ships and, still another forward movement, should actually undertake to dock and repair ships in the neighborhood of the canal. For that purpose the construction of a dry dock and a machine shop was recommended; and it was pointed out that these would be available for the use of our navy. A wireless station for naval and commercial use was another adjunct required.

The commission has given much thought to the disposition of land in the canal zone, important because of its bearing upon the future administration of the zone and the operation of the canal. Of the 436 square miles of land in the zone the government owns 363, of which 96 miles are occupied by the canal. A large part of the government land will be required for military, naval and other official purposes. It was deemed essential that the Spanish law shall continue to prevail to prevent friction with the neighboring Panamanians in the cities of Panama and Colon.

Most of the land is unsuitable for extensive farming enterprises and the inducements are not such as would attract American farmers, owing to difficulties in obtaining title and the peculiarities of the Spanish system of taxation, which must be continued. Other occupants than Americans are not desirable. The commission wants to get rid of the great body of foreign laborers, who were imported to dig the canal, as soon as the work is completed. They now populate the established town sites and the commission declared that they should be repatriated after work no longer can be given them. It was stated that the greater the amount of land leased, and the number of town sites established and occupied, the greater will be the cost of sanitation and civil government.

The report declared that for several years to come at least, it should be the policy to keep all government lands for government purposes. Whatever military force is located on the ... mus will be charged with its own sanitation. The reservation of all lands for governmental use would result, therefore, in minimum cost for these two items.

As to the form of government for the zone the commission directed special attention to the military necessities, the canal being deemed a military asset. In conclusion, the commission holds it essential that an entity be established, so organized that any military contingency can be promptly met.

It was recommended that Congress authorize the canal management to pay damages to vessels injured in passage, inasmuch as this government must insist on taking complete charge of all vessels during their transit to guard against injury to the locks.

ATTEMPTED AN ASSAULT

White Man in Serious Trouble at Rocky Mount, N. C.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Rocky Mount, N. C., Oct. 16.—Only the fact that her screams were heard by passersby prevented a criminal assault on Ethel Rice, the 11-year-old daughter of W. D. Rice, of South Rocky Mount, while the girl was returning from school this afternoon.

A man named Jones is in the city jail. Excitement in the neighborhood of the Rice home was intense but the police succeeded in getting the man locked-up after the girl had identified him. The child was passing a clump of bushes near the woods when the man walked out toward her. She says that he spoke to her and then took hold of her and attempted to remove part of her clothing. She screamed and the sound of her cries reached Officer S. D. Taylor, and a companion, who were driving near the scene of the attempted crime. They called out to the girl and the man rushed into the woods before the officers reached the scene, however. The child had reached her home nearby and rushed screaming to her mother. The officers chased the man into the woods with a crowd of railroad men who came upon the scene with them. They caught Jones and brought him before the child.

"That's the man, that's the man," the girl cried hiding behind her mother's skirts.

Despite the mutterings of the crowd, Officer Taylor placed Jones in the carriage and hurried him to the Rocky Mount jail. He is married and has one child.

Jones denies that he is the man. In an interview at the jail tonight he said that he was coming home from his work and that he had not seen the girl until the officer took him before her. Officer Taylor declares that Jones turned white and appeared greatly frightened when he arrested him. He did not appear to have been drunk. Efforts were made to get Jones out on bond tonight through his attorney, T. T. Thorne. Up to a late hour they had failed.

Jones will be given a speedy trial in the morning. Feeling is rather high in South Rocky Mount, but there is little likelihood of any violence.

FROM KERR, N. C.

Rev. J. S. Crowley to Preach---Dinner on Church Grounds

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Kerr, N. C., Oct. 16.—Rev. J. S. Crowley will preach at Harmony Church, Kerr, N. C., on Friday night and Saturday, October 20th and 21st, 1911. These sermons will be preparatory to communion service on Sunday, October 22nd. There will be plenty of food spread at the church, both for the soul as well as for the body. Brother Crowley will break to us the bread of eternal life, while the good Kerr people and the surrounding community will break to themselves and to us all the bread of natural life. At our last preparatory service, six months ago, we had about 200 people present on Saturday, we expect even a larger congregation at Kerr next Saturday, if the weather be favorable. Come and bring dinner, and help us enjoy the feast of good things, both for the soul and the body. It does people good to meet once in a while, and exchange thoughts and ideas, and hear the gospel of the Kingdom of Heaven.

NEW PASSENGER TERMINALS

Atlantic Coast Line Spends Quarter Million at Waycross

(Waycross, Ga., Journal.)

"Work has just about been completed by the Atlantic Coast Line on the new passenger terminals at this point.

"The delay in gravel shipments has put off the finishing touches but will be rushed now. The heavy track and embankment work in the eastern part of the terminals has been finished and nearly all track additions and changes in the west end.

"When completed the passenger terminals will give Waycross the longest straight way terminals in this part of the country, and probably the prettiest.

"The lighting arrangements are especially elaborate, furnished by the Coast Line's own power plant. The cost of the improvements under way in Waycross is estimated at a quarter of a million dollars, all track work being new and a great amount of gravel ballasting being used."

NEGRO BEATEN BY ANGRY MOB.

Black Had Attacked Two Children and a Woman

Louisville, Ky., Oct. 15.—A negro was so badly beaten by a mob here last night that his recovery is doubtful.

The black had attacked 4-year-old Ethel Cook and when she had released herself he grabbed Hazel Hughes, aged 14. Her cries for help brought her mother, Mrs. Maud Hughes, who was beaten by the negro.

Infuriated by the cries of the two girls and women a mob was restrained from killing the black only by prompt action of the police.

Dr. Wiley Commends Cotton Oil

For over quarter of a century Dr. Wiley, the famous government expert, has conducted an active campaign for pure food in the interest of public health. His advocacy in a recent speech of the use of Cotton Oil as a food is, therefore, especially significant; it simply emphasizes the wholesomeness of Cottolene—the vegetable oil shortening—which is composed so essentially of Cotton Oil, the use of which he so strongly recommends. Cottolene is endorsed by physicians generally, because of its purity and wholesomeness. It has been the leader in Cotton Oil products for over twenty-five years.

BISHOP OF RICHMOND DEAD

Distinguished Prelate Passed Away from Effect of Cold

Richmond, Va., Oct. 16.—The Rt. Rev. Augustine Van deVyver, bishop of the Catholic diocese of Richmond, died at 8 o'clock this morning of complications resulting from a severe cold.

The distinguished churchman was born in 1844 in Haesdonck, East Flanders, Belgium. He had been bishop of Richmond for twenty-two years.

The Catholics of Richmond, and in fact the clergy and laity of the church in all Virginia as well as friends of the prelate in all walks of life, are grief-stricken at the death of the bishop.

Plans for the funeral have not yet been finally made. It is expected that Cardinal Gibbons will come here and direct the obsequies. They will take place Friday, with burial in Calvary cemetery, here.
